OREGON LEGISLATURE.

EIGHTH BIENNIAL SESSION.

[Phonographically reported for the Oregonian.]

Senate--Morning Session

SALEM October 8, 1874

Senate was called to order at the usual hour by the President

After roll call the Rev Addison Jones opened with prayer

On motion of Mr BRISTOW a committee of two was appointed to read and correct the journal if any corrections be required. The Chair appointed as such committee Messrs Bristow and Wisdom

THE INSANE ASYLUM

The Senate proceeded in the adoption of the report of the committee appointed to visit the Insane Asylum

A motion of Mr BRISTOW to lay the report on the table was lost

A motion of Mr MYERS to accept the report and discharge the committee was also lost

The original motion to adopt the report of the committee was carried

On motion of Mr WATSON the bill accompanying the report S B 74 authorizing the Governor to contract with J C Hawthorne for the keeping of the insane and idiots for the ensuing four years at a rate not to exceed $6 per week per patient was read first time under suspension of the rules

Mr WATSON then moved that the rules be again suspended and the bill read a second time by title now

Messrs. BRISTOW and OWENS opposed the motion on the ground that it looked like hurrying the bill through without giving an opportunity for other propositions to be presented and Messrs. WATSON and CORNELIUS favored the motion for the reason that time was growing precious and they thought the bill should be referred so that other propositions might be received and referred to the same committee who could investigate and report upon their several merits

The motion prevailed the bill was read second time by title and on motion of Mr MYERS was referred to the Committee of the Whole Senate

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Mr GOODMAN, from the select committee to whom was referred the bill providing for the incorporation of the town of Harrisburg, reported amendments to the same. On account of some informality in the report, the committee were allowed to withdraw the same and to report at some future time.

Mr DOLPH from the Committee to which was referred H B 31 the bill to amend the Charter of Forest Grove reported the same back with amendments, which report with the amendments was adopted

RESOLUTIONS

Mr VAN CLEAVE by consent introduced S J R 17 thanking Gen. Jeff C Davis for his gallantry in suppressing the Modocs, which was adopted.

Mr MYERS introduced S J R 19, authorizing D P Thompson to act as the agent of the State to secure the selection and approval of the swamp lands to which the State is entitled. The resolution was referred to the Committee on Judiciary

Mr VAN CLEAVE offered S J R 11

Resolved by the Senate the House concurring That the Code Commissioners be allowed 10 copies each of the new code for distribution

Mr ENGLE moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform

Mr DOLPH hoped the motion would not prevail thought if Senators desired to kill this resolution, it was just as well to vote it down directly. He said that such courtesies as this were customary in all States, and that it was a small matter. That it was well known that the Commission had performed their work faithfully and had given us a book that was creditable to themselves and the State. That their compensation was not large that they doubtless had many judicial and legal friends to whom they would like to furnish copies that it was not unnecessary extravagant, and hoped the motion to refer would not prevail, and that the resolution would be adopted

Mr ENGLE did not know whether he should favor or oppose the resolution when it came up but as the Committee on Retrenchment already had the charges of Judge Deady before them, and as this seemed to be in addition thought it proper to refer it to that Committee. Said he was not unfriendly to the resolution provided it was found the Commissioners original charges were all right

Mr WATSON did not know whether he should vote for the resolution or not. The Secretary's report shows that the Commissioners have only received about $2 000 apiece and thought a little courtesy in addition would be no harm

Mr HALEY—I shall vote for the reference of the resolution. It is a question however in my mind whether to finally vote for the resolution. There is one word incorporated in the code which if it had not been so incorporated I should have been much more disposed to vote for this resolution. I do think that it is rather severe that we are bound by law since the adoption of this code to call this beautiful river of ours Wallamet.

Mr OWENS also spoke in favor of the motion to refer, and Messrs DOLPH and VAN CLEAVE against. The vote stood—yeas 21 nays Messrs. Crystal Dolph Hirsch Smith VanCleave Townsend William Mr President—8

So the resolution was referred

Mr CORNELIUS arose to the point of order that a call of the house could only be ordered by a motion which should be voted upon as any other motion. THE O & C R R BONDHOLDERS

The following communication addressed to the Speaker was read

Eden … October 4 1874

Through the message of His Excellency the Governor as well as through several bills offered to and introduced into both Houses of the Legislative Assembly the undersigned received the impression that some of the members wished to take steps to carry into effect laws which would severely affect the interest of the bondholders of the Oregon and California Railroad. As such step I might designate provisions for reducing rates of fares and freights for railroads and forcing railroads to build fences … railroads … I deemed it my duty to inform the people I represent of the possibility that such steps could be taken and I am now directed by a telegram from Germany to lay before both Houses of the Legislative Assembly the following facts:

First—That the interest on the first mortgage bonds of the Oregon and California Railroad due in October 1st 1873 and April 1st, 1874 could not be paid

Second—That it will be impossible for a long time to come to pay in full the interest due hereafter and that only a comparatively small amount will be paid instead of the whole sum.

Third—That the bondholders have suffered great losses as well in interest as by an enormous depreciation of the value of the bonds.

Fourth—That the losses above mentioned which will continue still for a long time must consequently become increasing by any steps which will contribute to the augmentation of the expenses—as for instance by compelling the railroad company to fence the road with an outlay of $250 000 (two dollars a rod)—or by diminishing the earnings in case of reducing the rates of fare and freight and that such new losses could not be justly asked for in addition to the already existing ones.

Fifth—That any unfriendly legislation must necessarily drive away all foreign, especially German capital and stop the development of the railroad interests of the entire State

You would very much oblige me by bringing these lines before the Assembly.

Very respectfully
I R KOEHLER,
Attorney for Bondholders O & C R R Co

On motion of Mr GALLOWAY the communication was referred to the Committee on Railroads

THE UNIVERSITY INVITATION

A motion by Mr GALLOWAY was adopted by a vote of 31 to 19 to reconsider the vote by which the House accepted the invitation to visit Willamette University to morrow (Friday) at 1.30 P M

The vote being reconsidered the Chief Clerk was on motion of Mr GEARIN instructed to acknowledge the invitation and to express the regret of the House that owing to the pressure of public business it could not be accepted

THE PROPOSED INQUIRY INTO THE PUBLIC LANDS.

The House then took up Mr Dufur's resolution offered before adjournment instructing the Committee on Public Lands to make an investigation into the conduct of the affairs of the State Land Office

Mr MAYS moved to adopt

The resolution was voted down by a vote of 9 to 26

HARBOR OF REFUGE

Mr CHAMBERS introduced a Joint Memorial to Congress asking for a survey of Cape Foulweather with a view of making it a harbor of refuge, and that if the point be found suitable the necessary appropriations be made therefor

On motion of Mr CRANSTON the Memorial was referred to the Committee on Commerce

Mr GALLOWAY gave notice of a bill amending the law relating to marriages within the degrees of consanguinity

Mr DARST moved the adoption of a resolution limiting the number of bills to be introduced by any one member at a dozen. The resolution was ruled out of order

A society for the punishment of cruelty to women is sadly needed in Utah

One hundred and fifty thousand salmon eggs have been ordered from California for the waters of Utah by the United States Fish Commissioner

The property to which Mrs Parker late of Idaho City has fallen heir to is valued at over $1 000 000 and consists of eighty acres of land in the heart of East St Louis

Young Shanks who accompanied his father Gen Shanks on a visit to Salt Lake a short time ago is now dangerously ill in Colorado where he is connected with the Hayden expedition

The mineral properties in Great Salt Lake are proving too much for the oysters planted in the mouth of Bear river last spring. A great many of them have died and the remainder are not in a very healthy condition

Mr Calhoun of the Swinomish gives the Argus a very encouraging account of the state of the crops in his locality. From 80 to 100 bushels of grain to the acre are realized by the farmers and it is estimated that 1 000 tons of this article will be exported from the sparse settlement in which he resides, and as much more from the Skagit and Stillaguamish. This speaks well for a country so recently brought under cultivation. The Gaches Bros, merchants there, are understood to have chartered a schooner of about 200 tons burthen, for the purpose of taking cargoes to San Francisco

WESTERN WASHINGTON INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION

FOURTH ANNUAL EXHIBITION

Second Day.

OLYMPIA October 7, 1874.

Contrary to general expectations, the Managers decided to postpone the opening of the Fair until to day, as about one half of the goods received had not been classified last evening. Therefore with the exception of the officers none were allowed to enter the Hall until to day

About 1 o clock P M the rush for tickets commenced and was kept up until 5 rather lively and augurs well for the future of the Exhibition

I am glad to see that all seem interested in having Fair grounds set apart somewhere in the Territory for the benefit of the public, so that sufficient room may be obtained for a proper display of the goods which are now kept out by reason of the scarcity of room. Columbia Hall is not fitted for such a display especially when it is anticipated that the exhibitions will be larger in the future than now

To day I had an opportunity of examining Class 1-9 Grain and Seeds which commences in the ante room of the hall and is carried up to the extreme end. Amongst the most prominent at the entrance is Mr W O B…'s display of wheat in the sheaf, there being a small box of the same variety, threshed at the foot of each sheaf. The first is Arnold's Hybrid winter wheat about 9 feet high. Next a good sample of Russian spring club, the grain being of a peculiar dark color. Then follow in rotation Bush's Golden winter and spring wheat, fine sample of Silver Hull buckwheat millet seed side oats 3 varieties of French barley, 2 do Russian chaff spring wheat, Chile spring club, Sonora do do, Mammoth and Egyptian spring Mexican white chaff and Arnutka, timothy seed, orchard grass, Dutch sweet pea. Advancing into the hall we find Mr Bush again representing the fertility of our soil, by the display of a beautiful sheaf of Australian winter club wheat, followed by the Champion of England pea and the following varieties of oats: Pole Winter, White Schonen Surprise Somerset, Early Fallow, Norway (Ramsdell) and the following varieties of wheat: Champion winter, Bull Forward, Australian winter club, White winter Tapahannock, Canada winter, and Long Ear White winter rye, 5 varieties of barley about 30 other varieties of wheat both in sheaf and threshed, including a good many samples grown from grain received from the Department of Agriculture

H S Bush has also on exhibition a very fine sample of Chile spring club. None of the sheaves are less than six feet high (with a few exceptions) and the tallest are probably ten feet but when it comes to height we must refer the reader to four stalks of corn exhibited by Mr Kuhn of Tumwater at the upper end of the hall, which stand at least fourteen feet high and may be easily mistaken in a fog for pine trees

I find a good display of corn in the ear, exhibited as received from the Snohomish Co Fair, which took place last week

Mr Meeker, of Pierce county shows a good bale of hops and Snohomish sends a collection of hops on the vine

Not only is Mr Bush an Agriculturalist but also a fruit grower the quantity, quality and variety of apples pears, quinces and plums grown and exhibited by him being something considerable. Next we find him producing seven different varieties of water melons which cause a good many to smack their lips and wish for a slice, but the presence of the police deter them. On the same table are to be found a nice assortment of dried pears plums and apples exhibited by Mrs W O Bush also different varieties of peas and beans

Mr T Rutledge shows twelve ears of very fine corn (King Philip). Mr George Cook has a good sample of improved white winter and Australia spring wheat. Master John Bush—a very fine sheaf of wheat. Mr J A Gale—a sheaf of rye pulled May 27th. Mr B A Chilberg of Whatcom, exhibits oats. Mr E Sylvester—a variety of fine grass seeds

On one of the tables I noticed a plate of very fine apples, of 1873 exhibited by M A. Barnes. But, of fruit, vegetables and other classes I shall speak in my next letter as the entries are not yet closed and I should be making but a partial report. However, I must say that the display of everything generally is much larger in my estimation than that of any previous year the excitement seeming to increase as time advances

The display of flowers is magnificent and shall be referred to again.

Fancy work is exhibited in abundance and tells well for the taste of the exhibitors. Some beautiful pieces having been forwarded from Snohomish and Seattle together with a large quantity from this vicinity

A very fine piano has been placed on exhibition by Mr N Crosby agent for Gray's music store together with a large music box containing bell and drum accompaniment which discourses sweet music in the Art Gallery down stairs

The grand piano which is placed in the orchestra is one of Hallett & Davis best and is owned by Mr J Hays of this county. A regular programme of music will be performed each evening by a good string band in the upper hall under the leadership of Prof White

As the Libby is expected this evening with a cargo of goods I shall defer giving a further list till to morrow

It is with regret I have to state that our respected fellow townsman Mr J H Munson has met with a deplorable calamity. It seems that two of his children Charlie and Lewis aged about seven and nine respectively, were playing in the brick yard where a considerable excavation had been made in the sand, when all at once a cave took place burying the little fellows who were, after considerable trouble taken out when it was found that one had his leg broken, and the spine of the other was badly hurt. This unfortunate accident has thrown quite a gloom over the community where the family are all so well known and it is generally hoped that fatal results may not ensue

Amongst the attractions of the Fair the most prominent and best patronized by the young people is Piper's candy and confectionery department where all can see the candy made before their eyes

In the lower part of the building is a good restaurant under the superintendence of Mr James Mars where the wants of the inner man can be attended to for a small charge

We fear the silence of the State Convention on the third term question will operate disastrously on the party during the campaign. This silence is subject to the same interpretation that is given to the silence of the Democratic State Convention on the Southern outrages—it is a tacit indorsement! The Tribune clearly indicates the danger to be apprehended from the failure of the Republican State Convention to declare in opposition to a third term. Unless something is done to remedy the omission it will lose us many votes —Syracuse Standard, (Rep)

THE LINN COUNTY FAIR

THE NINTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE LINN COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

Third Day.

ALBANY October 8 1874

Yesterday the day continued remarkably fine. At one o'clock there were 300 persons present. The Portland Willamette Fire Company No 1 arrived by the noon train. The Albany Firemen in full uniform with band of music and flags gave them a cordial welcome at the station; they then marched in procession to the St Charles Hotel where a special dinner was provided for them. A ball and supper was given in their honor in the evening

YESTERDAY'S RACES

The pacing race mile heats, best two in three for $150, did not excite much interest. Montgomery's Sconchin beat Shoo Fly the first heat. Time 2 45. Shoo Fly got the two next heats. Time, 2 40 2:38½

The trotting race at three o clock was a very different affair. The drivers were in earnest and went in to win. The public had confidence and bet freely. The race was mile heats, for horses that had never beat three minutes, best two in three, for a purse of $150, first horse $100 second horse, $50

Mr B B Acker drove the b m Kitty Clark. Mr L B Lindsey drove Black Bess and Mr J J Welsh drove the b m Lilly. Before the start Mr Acker entered a protest against Black Bess for having made better time than three minutes. For the same reason Mr Welsh entered his protest against both Kitty Clark and Black Bess

There was a good deal of jockeying in trying to get the advantage in the start. After four false starts were made, they were let go Kitty Clark on the inside, Black Bess second, and Lilly on the outside. They kept this position during the entire heat and passed the judges stand in the same order, Kitty Clark winning the heat. Time 2 49½. Kitty Clark was the favorite from the first, and got large odds among betters. She made fine trotting and was driven well. Black Bess trotted well and cut a good figure going out and coming in. Lilly broke several times and was nearly distanced coming in

The second heat was a very unusual one. A fair start was soon made, but Lilly, although on the outside was made to make a great effort by her driver, at the first, passed the other two got the inside track and kept ahead, gaining all the time until she had the other two far behind. Kitty Clark and Black Bess, when passed by Lilly, began to break, and broke several times badly. During the last quarter mile they settled down to their work, but notwithstanding great efforts on the part of horses and drivers it was too late, for Lilly passed the judges' stand amid the cheers of the crowd having distanced both Kitty Clark and Black Bess. This was a striking example of the fact that the race is not always to the swift. The drivers of the two distanced horses objected to Lilly for Mr Welsh's foul driving, but after long deliberation the judges ruled the heat and race to Lilly, and the second money to Kitty Clark

This morning the sun came up bright and warm. The day promises to be very fine and the racing interesting. The exhibition of stock is confined to racing horses 32 sheep and 5 hogs. You have already published a list of the horses entered up to date. The entries of

SHEEP

Are very limited. Mr Thomas Freeman has two pens containing one two-year old French Merino ewe, two one year olds, and two lambs, one two year old ewe and two lambs graded. Mr Chas Miller exhibits three pens, in which are a two year old Spanish Merino buck two two-year old ewes and two lambs of the same blood and six graded lambs. Mr N Price enters two graded bucks—Cotswold and Merino one and two-year olds,—two ewes and two lambs of the same breed, and one three-year old French Merino buck. Mr W K Price enters a two year old graded Cotswold buck, and two one year olds of the same blood

THE PAVILION

Manifests more life to-day as was anticipated. The attendance of ladies is considerable and influential

Mr H B Morrill of Albany, exhibits the Universal Spring Bed, that he recommends very highly as a luxury for sleepers

W J Warren & Co of Albany has on exhibition the Collins & Lillie Reversible Spring Bed. It is portable and well adapted for camping out and not expensive

Mr W B Nation of Portland exhibits a variety of chessmen of his own manufacture, made of bone and ivory beautifully carved and elegantly finished. He shows a number of other fancy articles of the same material, worthy the attention of persons of taste and refinement

J R Lake, Portland, has on exhibition several stoves of his own manufacture that attract the attention of housekeepers

Mr W F Dickson, Corvallis, exhibited a number of canes, made by himself from Oregon chittem wood supposed to be similar to the wood of which the Ark of Covenant was made. The wood is known to be a valuable medicine for ague, bowels and a number of other complaints that flesh is heir to. The wood is supposed to be confined to the coast range of this State. He sends one of his canes to the Editor of the OREGONIAN with his compliments

Geo Walling & Son, of the Willamette Nursery, near Oswego, exhibit samples of their splendid green fruits, including peaches, quinces, prunes grapes and plums, and dried apples, pears, peaches plums and prunes

Mr C V Burkhart, near Albany, exhibits samples of as fine apples as ever grew in Oregon—such as Alexanders, Holland pippins, Fall beauties, McCarver's premiums, Blue Pearmain, Glorie Mundies and others

Mr L C Burkhart, near Albany, exhibits a variety of splendid potatoes and choice yellow corn

John B McClure, near Albany, has on exhibition a few samples of very good apples

Messrs Thompson & Irving of Albany, show samples of their superior saddles

Mr S B Hendricks of Benton county, exhibits a lot of Brahma chickens that are much admired

The ladies are busy getting their flowers and plants and their plain and fancy work in order. That will be reported on in due time

The Portland and Albany Fire Companies will attend on the Fair Grounds at 2 P M, and parade headed by a band and banners, and afterwards exhibit the workings of the Willamette Steam Fire Engine

RACES

The running race at 1 30 free to all, best 3 in 5 for a purse of $250, is expected to be one of the best at this Fair. The following horses are entered: Bill Bigham, by W White. Bill Gird, by W Gird, Butralph, by G J Baskett. You will get the result by telegraph

The trotting race at 3 P M for horses that never beat 3 20, for a purse of $60 will likely possess some interest. The entries are not yet made

The running race to-morrow at 3 P M, best 2 in 3 for horses raised in Oregon for a purse of $150 is likely to be a very interesting one, to which there will be a good many entries. It will close the running races of the Fair

THE ALBANY RACES.

FROM THE CAPITAL

SALEM October 8, 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

When the House met yesterday morning it was evident that the extraordinary session of the evening previous had had its effects on the members. There was a weariness in their movements a general tiredness resulting from loss of sleep or some kindred cause. For the House is a very temperate body—temperate in all things. Unless prevented by committee business the Representatives are in bed at nine o clock, most of them, and they rise with the lark. The proceedings of Tuesday night proved too much for some. (A vote showed that they were too much for 46 of them, at any rate)

ANATOMICAL

House Bill No 6 has more lives than a cat. It was among the first bills introduced and it now looks as if it would be one of the last to die. In some form or another it has been before the House every few days. Yesterday it appeared again, in the shape of a substitute which was ordered printed. There is something chivalrous in Galloway's devotion to anatomy, and something eminently practical in the use to which he puts diseased paupers and criminals.

THE STATE CAPITOL.

It is not easy to guess what the Senate will do with the House bill appropriating $110,000 for further work on the State Capitol if it passes the House. Among some of the Senators there seems to be a disposition to make the appropriation provided the parties interested will guarantee that the walls be carried up to full hight, the unfinished interior inclosed, and rooms provided for the Legislature (halls, committee rooms, etc.) and the various State Departments. I have understood that certain individuals are prepared to give this guaranty. But in the House there is much opposition to the bill, guaranty or no guaranty. It is agreed on all hands that some provision should be made for the protection of the building as it stands, and the House would readily make an appropriation to that end. Further, this I do not believe it will go. And it ought not. Let all the elephants be put on short rations. The bill is now in the hands of the Committee on Public Buildings.

I do not intend to speak of the unreasoning prejudice against Portland and Multnomah county, which crops out occasionally in certain quarters, other than to mention that such a prejudice exists. Just after the game law was killed, I had a conversation with a Senator for whose honesty and fairness I have the highest regard. He alluded to the slaughter of the bill as "pinching Portland," and added that the Sportsman's Club of Portland would find that they couldn't run this Legislature. Perhaps the organization referred to attempted all the Senator intimated, but if so, few people know of it. A good many honest people think the entire State was "sinned" in the passage of the new game law

A morning paper, alluding to the spat … of Messrs Gearin and Stott on the Capitol Bill, says it is now a clear case of "Portland … the State," and that "in view of what has been done for her by the Federal and State governments, Portland ought to be the last to oppose a measure in which the whole State is so vitally interested, and in this case her unreasonable dictation ought to be promptly rebuked and put down." I can not see what is to be gained by attempts to stir up local prejudice in this way. Nor can I imagine what vast benefits have been conferred on Portland by the State government. Perhaps the author of the above quotation means the present police system by which the Police Judge is enabled to draw seven or eight thousand dollars from the city and county treasuries, partly for the support of a decrepit newspaper company and partly for the perpetuation of ring rule by the corrupt use of money in elections. As for the "obstinate" opposition complained of, the Multnomah delegation has thus far had less to do with the Capitol bill than almost any other delegation on the floor of the House. The opposition has come from other sections of the State, notably from Eastern Oregon. But when some injudicious individual shall "promptly rebuke and put down" the metropolis, I want to be there. The Woman Suffrage force of Tuesday night will be fairly eclipsed, and the watchful lobby will have a "high old time." These sectional animosities are worse than foolish. They would best be dropped

CHEAPER RENTS

Mr Riddle's resolution authorizing the Joint Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to ascertain at what rate rooms can be secured for the use of the State during the next two years contemplates a removal of the Departments from present quarters, provided a saving can be effected. The State is now paying about $4 000 for the use of the Holman buildings, on which not a cent of tax is paid.

THE LITIGANT LAW

The very first bill passed by the two Houses was that repealing the Litigant Law. It has taken somebody two weeks to see the bill properly enrolled. At last it has been signed by the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate

LA GRANDE LAND DISTRICT

If the bill, now in the Senate, abolishing the LaGrande Land District, becomes a law the Legislature will have accomplished one reform worthy of all praise. The institution is a nuisance and a sham. It is probable that the act creating it will be repealed

FEMALE SUFFRAGE

I do not know what may be the actual strength of Woman Suffrage in Salem, but almost any one can estimate what it will be if the performance of Tuesday night be often repeated. Such proceedings tend to bring "the cause" into disrepute. If it had any possible chance of success in the House (and I am inclined to think it had at one time), that chance was lost through the blunders of its friends

WITHDRAWAL OF THE HALLETT COMPANY

After holding three sessions on the subject, and after long conferences with those interested in the Oregon Pacific Railway Company, the Railroad Committee amended in several important particulars, the bill offered by that Company, and so altered it that the Company declined to accept it. This morning they went before the Committee and withdrew their proposition. If Col Chapman's Company shall now fail to build the road no blame will attach to the O P Co, which offered, as it claimed, a better proposition with more certainty of success. In case of such failure the Hallett Company, it is understood has placed itself in a position to ask of the next Legislature such aid as they were recently … to go into the enterprise with

THE BONDHOLDERS' REMONSTRANCE

The communication of Mr Koehler attorney of the bondholders of the O & C R R to the Legislature of the State no doubt says only the truth when it says the receipts of the road have been insufficient to meet the interest on the bonds, and are not likely to be sufficient to meet accruing interest for some time to come So much of the money raised on the bonds for the purpose of building the road was squandered in running the politics of the State and in the election of Senators, and so much had to be used by the President of the road that the cost of construction was out of all proportion Add to this the fact that the road has no connections, and it is easy to see that it cannot pay interest on its cost

That it did not pay the interest coupons that fell due in October, 1873 and 1874, is doubtless attributable in part to mismanagement It is better managed now There were also salaries of sinecures, enough to gobble up the interest on a large amount of bonds The proceeds were absorbed in paying Holladay $18,000 a year as salary for being President, when it was well known he did nothing but issue free passes to members of his political ring, and run his special train when occasion required, in carrying on his lobbying with the Legislature for personal ends That leak has been partially stopped under the bondholders careful management He is cut down to $7 200—which is just $7,200 more than he is worth to the company or than the people should be taxed to pay There were one or more sinecures with large salaries, one, at least, of which, we are informed, is still paid We wish not to be misunderstood as saying that the road would pay interest in full if these thousands unnecessarily expended were saved, but we refer to the matter to show what sort of charges go to make up the grand total of expenses which the people through their representatives are called upon to allow as a reason for refraining from the exercise of their power to regulate freights on the road

We scarcely perceive the force of the statement that the legislation remonstrated against would tend to drive away German capital Nobody would regret more than we to see any foreign capital driven out of Oregon but the only German capital in Oregon is that which is invested in the O & C R R and it would not wait for legislation, but would get out, instanter if it could. And as for preventing other German capital from coming here, that has been successfully done by the frauds of Mr Ben Holladay without the aid of the Legislature

These remarks are made in no unfriendly spirit The management of the road by the agent of the German bondholders has been, so far as we know, fair and just to the public, and certainly his communication to the Legislature is respectful and courteous in matter and manner We have referred to those points in the communication which seem to us to have most unquestionably another side to them, simply because those who are interested ought to see both sides

THE NEW YORK TIMES ON COALITION

To the Mr Holladay's man of all work, the ad interim editor of the Portland Bulletin, and to all others whose sleep is troubled with dreams of the dreadful state of things that must ensue, whenever those in the Republican party who desire a return to honesty and Republican principles united with the opposition to overthrow a corrupt set that have got hold of the machinery of the Republican party, we commend the following from that the Republican papers—the New York staunch old Republican paper—chief of all Times

> If the bolting movement amounts to nothing and the Conservatives nominate General Kershaw or some other equally good man for Governor there is not much probability that they can elect him Nothing but the frank union of all the parties who desire a fair start in a new direction can succeed If partisan prejudice is allowed to interfere and prevent combined action, there is no prospect of any change except that which Mr Chamberlain will try to [illegible] But the people who propose to elect him are drunk with the power which they have held so long The need to receive a substantial check before they will be in a spirit to undertake reform in earnest The negroes must be forced out of the attitude of antagonism with regard to all political and material interests, which they maintain toward the white property owners
> The bolters in 1872 failed to succeed because they refused to co-operate with the Conservatives But the bolting movement this year is conducted more wisely and is directly in the interest of reform. If Judge Green, a good Republican, is nominated and elected Governor by the joint efforts of the Independents and Conservatives, there must at once be a decided change for the better in the conduct of State affairs the Conservatives will be fairly represented, and the rights of property will receive the consideration due to them

The article from which this excerpt is clipped, is a leading editorial in the very latest number of the Times that has reached us (of date, September 27th) and the paragraph quoted is a fair specimen of the tone and purpose of the whole article The "bolting movement" referred to is the movement of those Republicans of South Carolina who refuse to support Chamberlain, the regular Republican nominee for Governor; and the "Conservatives," be it known are that class of persons, who, in other States call themselves "bedrock Democrats" and are sometimes playfully mentioned by the Republican and Independent press as "Bourbons"

So we have here the New York Times the thunderer of Republican journalism plainly and unequivocally approving a "bolt" against the regular nominee for Governor, and advising, in order to make the defeat of the Republican candidate certain that the "bolters" enter into a coalition with the Bourbon Democrats That is out Hereding Herod If some of the little penny whistles of the Republican ring out here do not read the Times out of the party now we shall be disappointed It would be equivalent to an obscure [illegible] excommunicating the Pope, as a bull, but it would be like the little fanatics and big thieves who claim to be the only Republicans of Oregon and who ran the organization till they ran it into the ground

Good news! The Portland Dalles and Salt Lake railway bill has passed the Senate It will pass the House without doubt

$52,000

We agree with our correspondent, whose letter appears this morning, that the welfare of the Insane patients of the State should be consulted before the question of economy. The first claim in regard to these unfortunate persons is the claim of humanity But this should be carried no farther than to prevent the Legislature from contracting for their keeping at a figure lower than the minimum for which they could be well kept so as to make it necessary for the contractor to do injustice to the patients in order to enable himself to carry out his contract If this minimum is $5 per week—and we cannot believe it is above that figure—all beyond that is not sacrifice to the feelings of humanity, but a squandering of the public treasure When such men as Dr Carpenter offer to provide suitable buildings and take care of the Insane for $4 75 per week, we are not at liberty to conclude it cannot be properly done for less than $6 for Dr Carpenter is a man who is not likely to rush into a matter concerning which he has not fully informed himself nor to undertake what he cannot perform The members of the Legislature will take a good deal upon themselves when they assume to decide that Dr Carpenter does not understand himself in this matter, and that they are required to let the contract to another person at $6 over Carpenter's offer to take it at $4 75 On 200 patients (about the number in the Asylum at present) the difference of $1 25 per week is $250 a week, or $13,000 for the year,—or $52,000 for four years, the term of the proposed contract Is not $52,000 a sum worth considering

THE SUPREME COURT REPORTER

Mr Chambers' substitute for the bill to regulate the election of Clerk of the Supreme Court, abolishes the office of Supreme Court Reporter, which has hitherto been connected with that of Clerk This is certainly unwise The decisions of the Supreme Court should be reported, and it should not be left to private enterprise Every State in the Union makes provision for having the decisions of its court of last resort, reported and published It is not a matter of the convenience of the legal profession merely, it is a matter affecting the stability and certainty of the rules of property, in which every citizen is concerned We cannot conceive what can be the object of abolishing the office, nor how it is expected the decisions of the Supreme Court are to be reported The better judgment of the Legislature will, we trust, prevent the passage of the substitute without such an amendment as shall save the Reporter

On Thursday morning the Bulletin showed the ear-marks—or rather the ears—of the Collector of Customs But it did not continue The readers of the paper discovered the fact that he was doing the editorial work—as no one could fail to do who has read his stupid productions—and, we presume demanded his immediate removal from the sanctum At all events the nuisance was speedily abated only lasting over one issue The next morning (yesterday) the paper had evidently edited itself Scott did a little clipping and a little stealing for it, and beyond that it was left to 'root pig or die' (No personal allusion to the late editor) This morning is the time for it to have a spasm of raving, if Scott is allowed access to its columns If he don't make use of the 'glass eye" argument this morning, we miss our guess

A bill has been introduced in the Senate to prohibit the sale of spirituous liquors on election days By all means it should pass. No one law would do more to redeem the elections from the corruptions and indecencies that have characterized them than the suppression of the liquor traffic during the time the polls are open The last election in this city proved this By consent most of the saloons were closed and the effect was apparent in the good order that prevailed

TREATMENT OF THE INSANE

BEAVERTON October 8 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In your valuable journal under date of October 6th was a communication from 'Reform,' relative to the Insane Asylum, and in yesterday's, October 7th, an item credited to the Farmer upon the same subject, in which the writer compared the cost of keeping the insane in this State and the cost in California, and Blackwell's Island, New York.

I think from my conversations with leading citizens in this and adjoining counties met while attending the Fair at Hillsboro that Reform and the Farmer are both mistaken in the sentiment of the people relative to reform measures. The tax-payers wish reduction in the expenditures so as to lessen their burdens, but they are not so sordid and miserly as for one moment to think of reducing the compensation for keeping those unfortunate beings who from one cause or another have their reasoning faculties so far impaired as to be unable to care for themselves It is office holders not the insane, whom tax-payers wish their representatives to go for Humanity cries out for the best of treatment to the insane so as to have them the sooner returned fully restored in health of body and mind to their friends relations and family Can the best treatment be obtained when the compensation is placed at such a low figure? I think not If not then which is the cheapest to have the insane receive the best treatment and care, thereby the sooner recover and be dismissed or to have them receive poor treatment and neglect (which will follow low prices) and be the longer under treatment at the expense of the State? Insanity, like fever, consumption, etc is a disease but of the brain and like any other disease requires the best treatment and care to obtain a speedy and permanent cure, but by poor treatment and neglect will linger along and in many cases when a cure could have been wrought, no cure be performed At the Asylum at East Portland a combination of circumstances operates in producing speedy cures the best treatment and care the best of spring water food clothing etc and above all Dr Hawthorne's invaluable knowledge of the insane derived from his long experience

The Farmer publishes the expenses of keeping the insane in California and also those on Blackwell's Island New York Of course it is cheaper to board clothe etc 500 than 200 and 1 000 than 500 but from personal knowledge I know that the insane in California are sadly neglected and this too without the knowledge of persons on the outside who if they knew would cry aloud for better treatment for the unfortunate beings who have no way to redress their wrongs and taxpayers one and all, would cheerfully respond In the Farmer's articles keeping the State prisoners on Blackwell's Island, costs a dollar more per week to the head than do the insane while it is a well known fact that insane people eat more than sane Horace Greeley when in the zenith of his fame attacked without gloves the Blackwell institution for the ill treatment of the insane Enough

CITY.

ANGORA GOATS —Mr Wm M Landrum of the firm of Landrum & Rodgers, the pioneer Angora goat breeders of the Pacific Coast, arrived here from San Francisco on the Oregon en route to the State Fair, with a sample of his finest stock He brought with him 15 head of Angora goats, five head of which will be on exhibition during the Fair Mr L intended to bring up about 30 head of goats, but was prevented from carrying out his intention in consequence of the want of accommodation for transporting such stock on board the steamer The number which will be on exhibition are pure full bloods and carry magnificent fleeces. They will doubtless attract much attention among the stock breeders of the State Mr Landrum [illegible] the appellation of being the pioneer Angora goat breeder on this coast as he was the first person to introduce them west of the Rocky Mountains He brought the first two goats over the plains across in the year 1861 They were tied behind his wagon and walked the entire distance from Leavenworth to Sacramento, making on an average 21 miles per day Messrs Landrum & Rodgers are the proprietors of a magnificent ranch on the [illegible] Island of the southern coast of California. The firm has at the present time about 4000 head of Angora goats on the island, a large proportion of which are full bloods. Mr Landrum took his goats up to Salem last evening on the express train

HEAD CUT —Henry Howard a young man who works in the cooper shop on North First street, met with a serious accident on Tuesday He was engaged at work leaning over the tool [illegible] with his back to the door, when a friend came in Howard did not perceive the man and kept at work His friend thinking to have a little innocent sport, and never imagining that any harm would result from it, gave Howard a push He lost his balance and pitched forward striking against the bench Unfortunately, a rounding [illegible] lying against the wall just above the [illegible] Against the razor like edge of the [illegible] Howard's head struck inflicting a fearful [illegible] to the skull and several inches [illegible] Before medical assistance could be [illegible] the wounded man fainted from the loss of blood His head was dressed and the man was doing well at last accounts although he will not be able to resume work for several [illegible] The person who unintentionally in[illegible] his friend feels dreadfully afflicted over the result Pranks and practical jokes generally result unpleasantly to the parties concerned and ought never to be indulged in

RESIGNED —A short time since Dr O P S Plummer tendered his resignation as Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company, which has been accepted Dr Plummer has had the Superintendency of all the lines of the company from Sacramento to Victoria for many years past He has made a competent, faithful officer and it is with regret that the company part with his valuable services. In all his relations, social and business, he is uniformly courteous, gentlemanly and obliging and has [illegible] a host of warm friends among those with whom he was brought in contact. Especially with the employes of the company, was he a general favorite. The position rendered vacant by the resignation of Dr Plummer, will be filled by Mr Lamb who has had charge of the lines between Portland and Victoria Mr Lamb we understand is a very capable gentleman and will doubtless fill the position to the entire satisfaction of the company Dr Plummer's resignation will take effect on the first of November. For the future, he proposes to engage in the drug business in Albany

AN OPERA CLOAK —We were shown [illegible] at the Cosmopolitan Hotel, by Mr [illegible] the noted raiser and breeder of Angora [illegible] of California, a very fine opera cloak made from the fleece of one of his goats The entire cloak was manufactured by [illegible] Los Angeles It is made of the finest [illegible] blue silk, quilted and covered in an [illegible] manner by the wool The fleece is [illegible] to the cloak in such a skillful manner [illegible] completely hide the silk. The fiber [illegible] will compare favorably with the [illegible] and presents a rich glossy [illegible] which cannot be surpassed Two silken [illegible] tie the cloak about the neck and [illegible] the back, terminating in elegant [illegible] of the wool Altogether, it is [illegible] the most rich superb cloaks we have had the pleasure of examining Its work [illegible] does great credit to the lady who [illegible] it and the quality and appearance of [illegible] is such that even a Queen might well [illegible] to wear This cloak is to be on exhibition at the State Fair.

[illegible] PRIZE FIGHT —The citizens of the north end were treated to a novel sight last [illegible] About 9 o'clock in the morning two [illegible] met on the grounds in the vicinity of the sawmill in full view of several residents and stripped to the waist The pro[illegible] the aspect of a quiet passage [illegible] Collyer and Edwards They [illegible] up to the scratch, and at it they went [illegible] and left, till down came one This was [illegible] first by one and then the other until [illegible] rounds were fought At the [illegible] the principals retired for a [illegible] Finally the biggest fel[illegible] and eventually [illegible] up the sponge.' They then moved off to the water's edge and 'bathed their aching [illegible]' which they donned their cloth[illegible] evidently satisfied with their [illegible] for [illegible] A more aston[illegible] people [illegible] those who witnessed [illegible] it would be hard to find

It is stated that Mr. Alfred Wilkie and Mr Frank Gilder intend to join fortunes in a trip across the Continent giving concerts at the principal cities en route, till they reach New York and from this point Mr Wilkie will cross the Atlantic in answer to a voice that has "come from England" The gentlemen are both accomplished musicians but hardly strong enough to make up a full concert programme.

WILLAMETTES TO ALBANY.

Our special reporter who accompanied Willamette Co No 1 on their excursion to Albany has furnished us the following notes of the trip Writing under date of Albany Oct 8, 1874 he says

Yesterday morning Willamette Engine Co No 1 P F D represented by about thirty of their best firemen left their engine house at an early hour and upon reaching the east side depot placed their steamer and hose carriage upon a flat car which was attached to the mail train for that special purpose As the ponderous machine was to be raised on to the car from the ground some anxiety was felt for its safety but under the able handling of officers and men the task was quickly accomplished without danger or delay

No incident of particular interest occurred till we reached Salem where Mr Hallock foreman of No 2 joined as the representative of that company Mr I D W Hardenberg and others who we supposed were on leave of absence from the third house of the Legislature, went with us from that place

Between Salem and Albany the only unusual incident was the ineffectual attempt by the conductor and several brakemen to put off the train a young man who had a half fare ticket which they seemed to think he had fraudulently obtained He was about the most persistent young man we have seen for some time, and he gained his point

Arriving at Albany, the Company was greeted by the Albany Fire Department, under command of our old comrade and ex-Chief Joe Webber and the President and Marshal of the Linn County Agricultural Society The steamer was soon taken from the car and with the hose carriage was taken in hand by the Albany boys The delegation from Portland formed ahead of them and the procession, headed by the Band was conducted to the Engine House where the Portland folks were furnished with complimentary tickets for the Fair and the ball, which was to take place in the evening. At half past two o'clock firemen and guests had a splendid dinner at the St Charles prepared by the Albany boys, who are noted for their generosity and hospitality Wine flowed freely, but all behaved like men At the close of the repast Mr Webber proposed the health of Mr Algeo Foreman of No 1, and the Portland Company and made a pointed and flattering speech to them Mr Algeo seemed very much affected by the compliment and called upon Mr W S Chapman First Assistant Engineer of the P F D, who by the way, is the guest of the Portland Company to respond which he did in creditable and well timed remarks Mr Herrin President of the Albany Company, and Mr Hallock were also called upon and were heartily received

Last evening occurred the pleasantest affair of the trip which was the complimentary soiree given by the Albany firemen; the pleasantest because there were present the fair ones but for whom firemen would cease to parade red shirts, and do deeds of valor

Shortly before the hour of supper occurred an incident which was very gratifying to all and brought tears of gratitude to cheeks that had many a time faced and battled the fiery elements with the staunchest firmness

Mr W Benjamin introduced W S Chapman of Portland who on behalf of Willamette Engine Company presented Mr Joseph Webber with a gold fireman's badge Mr Webber attempted to make a reply but was so much affected by the remarks of the speaker and the friendship and esteem with which he is regarded by the firemen and citizens of Portland that after a few sentences he broke away and wept like a child Nor were his the only cheeks down which tears flowed on that occasion Presently the music struck up and expressions of feeling were lost in the mazy dance But be their lot cast where it may, none who were there will soon forget what transpired on that occasion The badge had besides appropriate emblems a miniature steam engine and the inscription Joseph Webber ex Chief P F D, on the front, and on the reverse side Presented to Joseph Webber by Willamette Engine Co No 1, P F D. Oct 7, 1874 Able and Willing The latter being the Company's motto The ball continued until about four o'clock this morning, and all seemed well pleased

At the Fair the steam engine made a good representation of the efficacy of our Department. When the Albany boys took the pipe they found there was more power behind them than the strongest could tame with hand brakes

In a word the whole affair was a success and our folks will return to Portland to-morrow evening heartily gratified by the generosity and gallantry with which they were entertained by the big hearted Albany boys

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 9, 1874.

THE SALT LAKE RAILROAD.

We received yesterday evening a circular calling the attention of the members of the Legislature to the following proposition on this enterprise:

The new company, called "The Oregon Pacific Railroad Company," do not propose to [illegible] in the way of the Chapman Company. And while they deny the legal organization and corporate existence of the Chapman Company, and question its ability to build any railroad whatever, they are perfectly agreed that the Chapman Company should have all the time asked for in its Bill, to build the portage link railroads on the Columbia River, and thereby assures the people of Oregon of the responsibility and financial ability of the company to go forward with the main line.

But, if the Chapman Company cannot comply with the conditions it has placed in its own Bill in the construction of these portage railroads, then it ought no longer to stand in the way of others, and delay and defeat an enterprise of the greatest benefit to the whole State. And to enforce good faith in this matter, the following amendment is proposed to the Chapman Bill, S. B. No. 38, add the following section:

SECTION 15. That if the said Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall fail to complete and put in operation ready for business, a first class railroad of the narrow or standard gauge, around the obstructions in the Columbia river, known as the "[illegible]des," so as to connect with steamboats above and below said obstructions, within eight months after the approval of this Act by the Governor, and also a similar railroad around the "Dalles," in the said river, within fifteen months from such approval, then upon such failure to construct either of said portage link [illegible] within the time [illegible] h [illegible], the said com[illegible]y shall forfeit all rights under this Act, and the Act of 1872, of which this is an amendment, and the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to declare and publish such forfeiture: Provided, That if the said Company shall be enjoined by any court from proceeding with the [illegible] on said railroad at said "Cascades," or the "Dalles," on account of a refusal of the right of way to said railroad by parties claiming the land at said "Cascades," or "Dalles," then the said periods of eight months, and fifteen months shall commence to run from the then next succeeding term of the court which issued said injunction: Provided, That the whole of such extension of time shall not exceed twelve months from the pa[illegible] of this act.

And add also, to the bill of the new company, S. B. No. 50:

SECTION 11. That this Act shall not take effect nor have any force or virtue in law, or convey any rights to said Oregon Pacific Railroad Company, until the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall have forfeited their rights under an act of this Legislature entitled, "An Act to provide for the construction of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, and to amend an act contracting for the construction of certain sections of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Rail[illegible]," approved Oct. [illegible] 1872," and when said Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall have forfeited their rights under their said acts of this session of, this Legislature and the Legislature of 1872, then this act shall take effect and convey to said Oregon P[illegible] Railroad Company all the benefits and rights granted herein.

By passing both bills with these proposed [illegible], there will be no conflict of rights; and if one company fails to build the road within its own time, then the other will take up the enterprise and go forward with the work. If the old company fails, the new company will stand pledged to pay Col. [illegible] Chapman for all his time and expenses, and save him from loss. This is proposed by friends of all parties, as a fair adjustment of the matter, and an act to secure the interests of the State in the certain construction of the road.

OREGON.

Work is resumed on the M. E. Church building at [illegible] more.

The [illegible] Sus[illegible] and Albany are both running on the Yamhill route at present.

Ninety-five entries were made on the State Fair books up to 5 o'clock last Wednesday evening.

Hon. A. Hinman, of Washington county, has already sown 30 acres of fall wheat, and is now plowing fallow ground.

A Grand [illegible] of the I. O. O. F., is to be organized in Oregon at an early day, in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the R. W. Grand Lodge.

The sloop W. H. Twilight, of Astoria, has gone to Puget Sound to run between Whidby's Island and Port Townsend as a mail boat, by John Van W[illegible].

The United Brethren have been conducting a series of meetings at the Watts School House, near Hillsboro, for several days, which have been largely attended.

M. C. Athey, of Oregon City, will represent the Champions of the Red Cross of Oregon in the meeting of the Grand Lodge, to sit in San Francisco in a few days.

A child of Mr. Musgrove had its leg broken last Saturday, at the Hillsboro Fair grounds. A horse, hitched to a post supporting a shed, pulled the post out and let the shed down on the child.

The [illegible] says: "The [illegible] Norway oats, grown in Clatsop county by D. J. Ingalls, are worth looking at. The heads are from 8 to 13 inches long, well filled, and the straw averages six feet; the product is about 100 bushels to the acre.

Last [illegible] day afternoon a fire caught from burning straw in John Gh[illegible]n's wheat field, near the Grove, and burned and damaged about [illegible] bushels of wheat that was sacked and piled up in the field and covered with straw, which got on fire, hence the loss.

[illegible] Co. [illegible] purchased the tract of [illegible] for the purpose of constructing what is called a gridiron, 300 feet long, and 30 feet wide, for repairing [illegible] It [illegible] Monday by the Superintendent of all their boat [illegible], Mr. John Holland.

A [illegible] Dan [illegible], arrested at Astoria and taken to Salem, is held in jail there on [illegible] of being implicated in the robbery of Wells Fargo & Co.'s office. It is alleged that he had [illegible] accomplices, one of [illegible] probably [illegible] at Coos Bay and another still at Astoria.

The following persons have been selected to [illegible] at the State Fair Grounds next week: Tickets [illegible] main entrance, John C. Booth and G. W. H[illegible]; railroad entrance, T. R. Hibbard; east entrance, J. Henry Brown; [illegible] main gate, G. P. Ferrall; railroad gate, [illegible] Nixon and Mr. Starr; outside gate, G. W. Sholl. Hay sellers, S. Goff and S. Jolly. Charge of hay barn, D. D. Prettyman.

For the information of all whom it may concern, it may be stated that on the State Fair grounds, in addition to 119 stalls for horses, already made, 25 more will be made this week for cattle, and 20 for horses. The grand stand for [illegible], at the race track, which was blown down, has been again erected, well covered and substantially braced. All the wells have been cleaned, and there will be a full [illegible] on the grounds. The public walk from the railroad has been extended through the west gate, and passes beyond the Pavilion. The Society is abundantly supplied with hay of its own raising on the grounds, and will have some to spare, on private account, for sale.

The [illegible] of Port Townsend says: "The case of A. [illegible] Officer, [illegible] North Pacific, which came up at last session of our District Court, was one of interest to the traveling public; inasmuch as its decision settles the matter of the [illegible] of common carriers of goods or merchandise. In this case, the plaintiff, Mr. Officer, deposited a valise in the forecabin of the steamer North Pacific, at the wharf in Victoria—a usual thing for passengers to do when making business or excursion trips on the Sound. The valise disappeared unaccountably—even before leaving port—and the plaintiff brought suit against the steamer for the valise and contents, or its equivalent. Judge Jacobs, in an elaborate opinion, after [illegible] the [illegible] decided that as proof was wanting in the case to show that the property was [illegible] over to the care of the [illegible], no responsibility attached to [illegible].

Judge Kidder will probably be elected Delegate to Congress from Dakota. He has no opponent.

Wheat in Liverpool, by mail advices from San Francisco, 10s@10s 4d for average California, and 10s 4d@10s 9d for club.

Latest telegrams to the Portland Board of Trade are as follows: Liverpool, October 7—California white wheat, range of average per cental, 10s@10s 6d; California club, 10s 6d@11s. London, October 7.—Wheat, California average quality for shipment, 45s ℔ qr of 500 lbs. California average on the passage, just shipped, 45s. California average quality, nearly due at Queenstown, 46s ℔ qr of 500 lbs. The Liverpool wheat market for spot cargoes seems firmer and steady.

There are no material changes noted in local financial circles to day. The feeling is quiet, and the supply, demand and rates are unaltered. It seems to be the general impression that the fall trade will prove quite as satisfactory as has been expected. There will be no extraordinary demand, but orders will be accompanied with cash or its equivalent, so that but little risk will be incurred by manufacturers or merchants. With a trade, perhaps, not more extensive than that of corresponding seasons in years of boasted prosperity, but with a guarantee that an equivalent will be obtained for all the goods sold, our merchants will, in many instances, be able to foot up better returns when the season is over. The fall trade in most branches, it is predicted, will, upon the whole, be moderate, safe and satisfactory.

We have been requested to call the especial attention of the public to the great importance of patronizing the savings banks which are in operation in our community, and can do so in no better way than by quoting from a recent number of the Banker and Depositor of San Francisco:

Laboring men should reflect that a few cents saved every day and put out at interest amounts to a large sum in a few years. The price of a cigar or a drink of whisky is a foundation for a fortune, and from just such insignificant sums fabulous wealth has sprung. A dime looks small indeed, but then its purchasing power is a million-fold greater than most men imagine. Such a sum, properly handled, would, in the course of time, liquidate our present National debt. It is a slow process at first, we admit, but the increase is rapid and the end a triumphant success. Haste to get rich is not wise, and riches quickly won are, as a general thing, both disreputable and unstable. Little rains are absorbed by the earth, and serve to feed for months the springs from which the mighty rivers flow, while the heavy storm runs off in haste, carrying destruction and sorrow in its course. So little savings make mighty fortunes which last and bring happiness to the heart, while hasty and ill-gotten wealth bring sorrow to the possessor and ruin to his character. Save the dimes and your fortune is made.

Paper Making.

Among the home enterprises not heretofore mentioned in this column, one of the most important is the Clackamas Paper Mills which are now running on full time and turning out large quantities of this necessary article. During the present year they will make over 12,000 reams of Straw Paper which will more than supply the Oregon market. Being the only Paper Mill on the North Pacific coast, its products are being distributed over a large section of country and give very general satisfaction.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market to-day is quiet, foreign advices being unchanged, and but few lots being offered here, though purchases in the interior are not unfrequent. Receipts during the entire week have been free, and the several vessels on the berth are filling up rapidly. Quotations are unchanged from $1 35 per cental.

FLOUR—There has been a steady demand for lower grades, and considerable has changed hands at low fi[illegible] the [illegible] to help make up the cargoes of the two vessels now loading for the Chinese market. Should that market be once fully open to our products, we might find it a better one for this cereal than that of England. Could the vast millions of China be induced to become bread-eaters, there would be a never-failing demand for our surplus. The experiment of shipping an occasional cargo thence may be the first steps toward the establishment of a trade that in time will prove of immense advantage to our coast. The market here at present is well stocked, and standard extras are working off slowly at $4 75 per bbl, good country and outside brands at $4 25@4 50, while fine and superfine are in request at $3 62½@4.

OATS—The receipts of the past week have been quite fair, and rates [illegible] rather inclined to drop, though choice white are quotable at 40c per bushel, sacked, and black at 35@36c.

BARLEY—The home market is better supplied at $1 40@1 45 per 100 lbs for choice brewing, and $1 35@1 37½ for [illegible].

FEED—Receipts are increasing, and a weakening tendency in prices is noted. Bran is quotable at $12@13 per [illegible]; middlings $20@22, and shorts at $16@20.

HAY—The supply is adequate and prices remain at $10@11 ℔ ton for baled Timothy, $9@10 for loose do. Wild hay is scarcely saleable.

POTATOES—The market is very abundantly supplied with [illegible] all varieties and prices are low. Choice [illegible] lots, sacked, command 50 cents ℔ bushel, but [illegible] range from these figures down to 30 cents for [illegible] lots.

ONIONS—[illegible] as a rule, are not considered No. [illegible] too much wet weather. [illegible] yellow quotable at $1 50 ℔ 100 pounds; [illegible] $1 25.

GREEN APPLES—Abundant and find slow sale at 50@75 cents per box, if assorted and neatly packed, and ¾@1c ℔ lb loose.

BACON—The last year's product has about all been marketed and very little is now coming to hand. Prices are firm at 9@10 cents ℔ lb for Shoulders; 12@13c for best Sides and 15@16c for Hams. These figures are for country cured.

LARD—There is a fair demand for fresh Oregon made, both in tins and kegs, at 14@15 cents ℔ lb.

BUTTER—The receipts of the past week have been average as to quantity, and rather show an improvement in quality. Prices are steadier than usual, but show no change since our last report.

CHEESE—We still quote the product of our State dairies, jobbing rates, 16@17 cents ℔ lb, with a fair supply in the market.

EGGS—A good many lots that have reached this market recently should have come a great deal sooner, as they have been kept back so long that somebody must lose on them because of their condition. We quote at 26@27 cents ℔ dozen.

CHICKENS—The supply in the market is still in excess of the demand, and prices range from $2 75@3 [illegible] ℔ [illegible], the latter for [illegible].

BEEF CATTLE—Several fine droves have arrived during the past week, and prices are unchanged.

MUTTON SHEEP—We quote choice at $2 50@2 75 per head; common at $2@2 25.

DRESSED HOGS—[illegible] at 6@6½ cents per lb, with a rather better demand.

TALLOW—Fair lots are in demand at 5@6½ cts per lb.

HIDES—The market is active at [illegible] per lb; [illegible] at 14@16 cents for dry; culls 11@12½c.

WOOL—There is nothing new to note in our local market. Eastern advices to be found elsewhere denote a prospectively active trade. Rates here are nominally unchanged.

Eastern Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA, October 7.—Wool quiet but firm. Colorado, washed, 28@35c; unwashed, 24@26c; extra and Merino, pulled, 43@47c; No. 1 and superior, pulled, [illegible]@47½. Texas, fine and medium, 28@35c; do. coarse, [illegible]@25c. Cal. fine and medium, 29@37; do. coarse, 32@35.

BOSTON, October 7.—The market for wool continues without improvement. The demand is only to meet the wants of manufacturers, who, in the present uncertain state of the goods market, purchase as moderately as possible; at the same time there is no pressure to sell desirable fleeces or pulled, and holders appear to have considerable confidence in the future of the market. Combing delaine selections are readily sought after and command full prices at [illegible] as to quality. Pulled wool is scarce and firm with sales at 40@55c as to quality.

OREGON [illegible]

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING OCTOBER 9, 1874

THE SALT LAKE RAILROAD.

We received yesterday evening a circular calling the attention of the members of the Legislature to the following proposition on this enterprise

The new company called The Oregon Pacific Railroad Company do not propose to get in the way of the Chapman Company And while they deny the legal organization and corporate existence of the Chapman Company, and question its ability to build any railroad whatever, they are perfectly agreed that the Chapman Company should have all the time asked for in its Bill to build the portage link railroads on the Columbia River and thereby assures the people of Oregon of the responsibility and financial ability of the company to go forward with the main line

But if the Chapman Company cannot comply with the conditions it has placed in its own Bill in the construction of these portage railroads then it ought no longer to stand in the way of others and delay and defeat an enterprise of the greatest benefit to the whole State And to enforce good faith in this matter the following amendment is proposed to the Chapman Bill, S B No 58, add the following section

SECTION 15 That if the said Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall fail to complete and put in operation ready for business, a first class railroad of the narrow or standard gauge around the obstructions in the Columbia river, known as the "Cascades," so as to connect with steamboats above and below said obstructions within eight months after the approval of this Act by the Governor, and also a similar railroad around the Dalles in the said river, within fifteen months from such approval then upon such failure to construct either of said portage link railroads within the time limited therein, the said company shall forfeit all rights under this Act and the Act of 1872 of which this is an amendment and the Secretary of State is hereby authorized to declare and publish such forfeiture Provided, That if the said Company shall be enjoined by any court from proceeding with the work on said railroad at said Cascades or the Dalles on account of a refusal of the right of way to said railroad by parties claiming the land at said Cascades or Dalles, then the said periods of eight months, and fifteen months shall commence to run from the then next succeeding term of the court which issued said injunction Provided That the whole of such extension of time shall not exceed twelve months from the passage of this act

SECTION 11 That this Act shall not take effect nor have any force or virtue in law or convey any rights to said Oregon Pacific Railroad Company until the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall have forfeited their rights under an act of this Legislature entitled, An Act to provide for the construction of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad and to amend an act contracting for the construction of certain sections of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad, approved October 18, 1872," and when said Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company shall have forfeited their rights under their said acts of this session of this Legislature and the Legislature of 1872, then this act shall take effect and convey to said Oregon Pacific Railroad Company all the benefits and rights granted herein

By passing both bills with these proposed [illegible] there will be no conflict of rights and if one company fails to build the road within its own time, then the other will take up the enterprise and go forward with the work If the old company fails the new company will stand pledged to pay Colonel Chapman for all his time and expenses and save him from loss This is proposed by friends of all parties as a fair adjustment of the matter and an act to secure the interests of the State in the certain construction of the road

The Argus of Port Townsend says "The case of Albert Offner vs steamer North Pacific which came up at last session of our District Court, was one of interest to the traveling public inasmuch as its decision settles the matter of the responsibility of common carriers of goods or merchandise In this case the plaintiff Mr Offner deposited a valise in the forecabin of the steamer North Pacific at the wharf in Victoria—a usual thing for passengers to do when making business or excursion trips on the Sound The valise disappeared unaccountably—even before leaving port—and the plaintiff brought suit against the steamer for the value and contents, or its equivalent Judge Jacobs in an elaborate opinion, after setting forth the facts, decided that as proof was wanting in the case to show that the property was [illegible] over to the care of the [illegible] of the boat, no responsibility attached to them

Wheat in Liverpool by mail advices from San Francisco 10s@10s 4d for average California, and 10s 4d@10s 9d for club

Latest telegrams to the Portland Board of Trade are as follows Liverpool October 7—California white wheat range of average per cental 10s 6d@10s [illegible] California club 10s 6d@11 London October —Wheat California average quality for shipment for cargo of 500 lbs. California average on the passage just shipped [illegible] California average quality nearly due at Queenstown 46s per qr of 500 lbs. The Liverpool wheat market for [illegible] cargoes is [illegible] firmer and steady

There are no material changes noted in local financial circles to day The feeling is quiet and the supply demand and rates are unaltered It seems to be the general impression that the fall trade will prove quite as satisfactory as has been expected. There will be no extraordinary demand but orders will be accompanied with cash or its equivalent so that but little risk will be incurred by manufacturers or merchants With a trade perhaps not more extensive than that of corresponding seasons in years of boasted prosperity but with a guarantee that an equivalent will be obtained for all the goods sold our merchants will in many instances be able to foot up better returns when the season is over. The fall trade in most branches it is predicted, will upon the whole be moderate safe and satisfactory

We have been requested to call the especial attention of the public to the great importance of patronizing the savings banks which are in operation in our community and can do so in no better way than by quoting from a recent number of the Banker and Depositor of San Francisco

Laboring men should reflect that a few cents saved every day and put out at interest amounts to a large sum in a few years The price of a cigar or a drink of whisky is a foundation for a fortune, and from just such insignificant sums fabulous wealth has sprung A dime looks small indeed but then its purchasing power is a million fold greater than most men imagine Such a sum properly handled would in the course of time, liquidate our present National debt It is a slow process at first, we admit but the increase is rapid and the end a triumph and success. Haste to get rich is not wise and riches quickly won are as a general thing both disreputable and unstable Little gains are absorbed by the earth and serve to feed for months the springs from which the mighty rivers flow while the heavy storm runs off in haste carrying destruction and sorrow in its course. So little savings make mighty fortunes which last and bring happiness to the heart while hasty and ill gotten wealth bring sorrow to the possessor and ruin to his character Save the dimes and your fortune is made

Paper Making.

Among the home enterprises not heretofore mentioned in this column one of the most important is the Clackamas Paper Mills which are now running on full time and turning out large quantities of this necessary article During the present year they will make over 10,000 reams of Straw Paper which will more than supply the Oregon market Being the only Paper Mill on the North Pacific coast its product are being distributed over a large section of country and give very general satisfaction.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market to day is quiet foreign advices being unfavorable and but few lots being offered here though purchases in the interior are not unfrequent. Receipts during the entire week have been free, and the several vessels on the berth are filling up rapidly Quotations are unchanged from $1 35 per cental.

FLOUR—There has been a steady demand for lower grades, and considerable has changed hands at low figures [illegible], mostly to help make up the cargoes of the two vessels now loading for the Chinese market, should that market be once fully open to our products we might find it a better one for this coast than that of England. Could the vast millions of China be induced to become bread-eaters, these would be a never failing demand for our surplus. The experiment of shipping an occasional cargo there may be the first step toward the establishment of a trade that in time will prove of immense advantage to our coast. The market here at present is well stocked and standard extras are working off slowly at $4 75 per bbl good country and outside brands at $4 25@4 50 while fine and superfine are in request at $3 62@4

OATS—The receipts of the past week have been quite fair and rates seem rather inclined to drop though choice white are quotable at 40c per bushel sacked and black at 33@35c

BARLEY—The home market is better supplied at $1 40@1 45 per 100 lbs for choice brewing, and $1 35@1 37½ for common

FEED—Receipts are increasing and a weakening tendency in prices is noted Bran is quotable at $12 a 13 per ton, chop and [illegible] $20@22 and shorts at $18@20

HAY—The supply is adequate and prices remain at $10@11 per ton for baled Timothy $8@10 for loose do Wild hay is scarcely saleable

POTATOES—The market is very abundantly supplied with all varieties and prices are low Choice [illegible] sacked command 50 cents per bushel but range from these figures down to 30 cents for large lots.

ONIONS—This year's crop, as a rule are not considered No 1 [illegible] too much wet weather [illegible] yellow quotable at $1 50 per 100 pounds [illegible]

GREEN APPLES Abundant and find slow sale at 50@75 cents per box if assorted and nicely packed and 30c per [illegible] loose

BACON—The last year's product has about all been marketed and very little is now coming to hand Prices are firm at 9@10 cents per lb for Shoulders 12@13c for best Sides and 14@15c for Hams These figures are for country cured

LARD—There is a fair demand for fresh Oregon made both in tins and kegs at 14@15 cents per lb

BUTTER—The receipts of the past week have been average as to quantity and rather show an improvement in quality Prices are steadier than usual but show no change since our last report

CHEESE—We still quote the product of our State dairies jobbing rates 16@17 cents per lb with a fair supply in the market

EGGS—A good many lots that have reached this market recently should have come a great deal sooner as they have been kept back so long that somebody must lose on them because of their condition We quote at 26@27 cents per dozen

CHICKENS—The supply in the market is still in excess of the demand and prices range from $2 75@3 50 per dozen, the latter for choice lots only

BEEF CATTLE—Several fine droves have arrived during the past week, and prices are unchanged

MUTTON SHEEP—We quote choice at $2 50@2 75 per head, common at $2@2 25

DRESSED HOGS—Quotable at 6@6½ cents per lb with a rather better demand

TALLOW—Fair lots are in demand at 6@6½ cts per lb

HIDES—The market is active at 6@7 cents per lb for green, and 15@16 cents for dry culls 11@12½c

WOOL—There is nothing new to note in our local market. Eastern advices to be found elsewhere denote a prospectively active trade Rates here are nominally unchanged.

Eastern Wool Market.

PHILADELPHIA October 7—Wool quiet but firm Colorado washed 28@35c unwashed 24@26c extra and Merino pulled 43@47c No 1 and superior pulled 43@47½c Texas fine and medium 30@36c do coarse, 25@26c, Cal, fine and medium 29@34 do coarse 32@35

BOSTON October —The market for wool continues without improvement. The demand is only to meet the wants of manufacturers who in the present uncertain state of the goods market purchase as moderately as possible, at the same time there is no pressure to sell desirable fleeces or pulled and holders appear to have considerable confidence in the future of the market. Combing delaine selections are readily sought after and command full prices at 56@65c as to quality Pulled wool is scarce and firm with sales at 40@55c as to quality
